Los Angeles Herald

THE DAILY and WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

SUNDAY..... NOV. 21, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Weather permitting, the races at the Agricultural Park course will commence to-morrow.

It was still raining in this city last evening, though the fall was light, with indications of clearing off.

The Los Angeles and Independence Railroad is to be completed to the depot on San Pedro street by this evening.

Almost six inches of rain have fallen in this valley this season.

Trains and stages are again running on time.

The New York Times says it will not support GRANT for a third term. Our wager is that it does.

WHEN completed the New York Post Office will cost the people ten and a half million dollars.

BALTIMORE claims a population of 300,000 and polls 50,000 votes. San Francisco counts a population of 230,000 yet polls only 26,000 votes. Why is this?

Poe was always unfortunate and his ill luck followed him beyond the grave. The other day they removed the remains of his mother-in-law and laid them beside the poet's bones.

AND now they are going to drop HENRY BOWEN's name from the Plymouth church roll. Why, it owns the Independent and one employed BEECHER to edit it for him. What a topsy turvy world this is!

THE Bulletin claims that there is in San Francisco banking capital enough to transact all legitimate business. Why not do it, then? The capital does not come to the surface, and legitimate business suffers.

THE San Francisco reporters are terribly humiliated because so important a personage as Chief OLEGARIO slipped through that city without being interviewed. The HERALD reporter captured him.

THE people of Virginia City complain of having too many trade dollars. If we had just had our house burned and our mines filled with water, trade dollars would be good enough for us.

A LONDON Times writer argues in favor of burying the dead without coffins, thereby preventing the generalizing of noxious gases. Such a custom would generate a vast quantity of gas among the undertakers.

A SAN Joaquin valley paper says the effects of the no-fence law may be seen all over the valley where the law is in force. There is no doubt about this. If a man may cultivate land without being compelled to fence it, the expense of agriculture is greatly reduced. It costs more to build fences than to build cities. The fence expenses of a farm are thus more than double the cost of barn, dwelling and other necessary structures. In those agricultural districts of our State where fencing material is scarce and dear a no-fence law will do more towards the population of the country than all the immigrant aid societies that can be formed. We hope the Legislature so soon to assemble will give this no-fence subject its careful consideration.

SEVERAL parties have complained to us of the unreliability of certain real estate agents with whom they have come in contact in this city. We presume there is some grounds for these complaints. The business of real estate dealing is lively in this valley and many persons have found the agency for the sale of other men's property quite profitable. It is not at all remarkable that adventurers—men without means and not over scrupulous as to the character of their statements—should invest their capital, check and impudence, in a line of business which may pay well but if it should not will cost them nothing. They run their face for advertising and job work for which they never pay and then harass new comers to purchase land they do not own and in some cases were never authorized to sell. Still we believe the greater portion of our real estate agents are honorable and trustworthy gentlemen who will not intentionally deceive their customers.

Suggestions.

The Teacher's Institute which closed its session on Friday last passed resolutions requesting our delegation to the Legislature to have the salary of our county Superintendent of public schools fixed at $2,000 per annum and to have him made a member of the State Board of Education. We are uncompromisingly opposed to increasing the salaries of public officers after they are elected and in no case will we advocate such a course unless there is additional service required. The present pay of the County Superintendent is $1,500 per year and we believe he is required by law to visit every public school in the county four times per annum. This requirement has not been complied with and we understand the reason why it has not is the insufficiency of the compensation. The cause of education will be advanced by frequent visits of the Superintendent to the schools and we should have no objection to increasing the salary of that official to the amount named in the Teachers' resolutions provided the full performance of the service is made contingent upon the payment of the money. The request that our Superintendent be made a member of the State Board of Education is but proper. We have a right to demand this. Los Angeles county is now the fourth in the State in the number of children and voting population and she is therefore entitled to a representation on the State Board. Counting Los Angeles City but one, there are, we believe ninety-two schools in this county and the population, together with the number of children attending public schools have increased one third within the past three years.

In a False Light.

The State Grange at its last session passed a series of resolutions which impliedly favor National aid to the Texas and Pacific Railroad. The only indication that the object of the Grange was to favor Tom Scott is found in the word "competition," which frequently occurs in the resolutions, and the only allusion to National subsidy is contained in the closing resolution, which instructs "our Representative to use his best endeavors to have such favorable action taken by the National Grange as shall assist in securing to Patrons the advantages of competition." This series of resolutions is published in Mr. SCOTT's organs, accompanied by editorials in which the idea is sought to be conveyed that the Grangers—the owners and tillers of the soil of California—are in favor of loaning the Government credit to Mr. SCOTT's railroad at the rate of more than twice the amount necessary to build it. We do not believe the farmers of California can be induced to favor the proposition. It is not probable that the State Grange anticipated that their resolutions would be so interpreted. But if this is their true meaning we are satisfied that it is not an expression of the sentiments of the Granger masses of the State. We all know that if a vote on California's portion of this credit loan were taken it would be rejected by a vote of ten to one. The people are not in favor of either directly or indirectly voting subsidy to railroads, and none are more fully aware of this than they who are trying to twist these Grange resolutions into an expression in favor of subsidy.

An elderly man named Lewis, residing at No. 232 Sixth street, and employed by the Gas Company, picked up a glass containing tincture of ammonia with which some member of the family had been scouring wood, and under the belief that it was wine, drank off the contents of the glass. In a very few moments the mistake was discovered, a physician and stomach pump sent for, and Mr. Lewis received by his haemorrhage dose.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 20th.—The resolutions recently adopted by the San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board has called forth the following resolution from the Pacific Stock Exchange:

Resolved, That the Pacific Stock Exchange, far from any wish to condemn the stock and actions of its members, have established open sessions of its Board, where all responsible stock dealers are permitted to transact their business with each other or with members of the Exchange at their discretion, without being subjected to the payment of onerous commissions where no services are performed, and that the public are cordially invited to witness all stock transactions at our regular sessions without exaction of admission fees ingress and egress being free at all times.

Wm. Blanchard, who a short time ago was agent for Wells, Fargo & Co. at Milton, near the Copperopolis Railroad, was arrested yesterday by detective Stone on charges of forgery and embezzlement. The amount of the forgery and whose name he forged are not known by the police authorities, but the embezzlement is alleged to consist of $1,200 in funds belonging to Wells, Fargo & Co. Blanchard will be taken to San Andreas for trial.

The postponement of the trial of Wadsworth, the railroad embezzler, to the 16th of December, placed it under the new administration of the District Attorney's office, both Mr. Miller and his counsel seem well pleased to get out of the clutches of Ryan and Ferrell and take their chances with a new administration.

We interviewed the Collector of Taxes yesterday evening and found his pile to consist of fifteen dollars in silver and an old jack-knife.

The rain and mud are no respecters of persons. The vegetable man fell into the sticky embrace of Coyote Creek yesterday.

San Bernardino Items.

(From the Argus, Nov. 18th.)

Our County has been perfectly saturated, indeed the rain seems to have been universal over Southern California, and the farmers have begun their seed in earnest.

When at Old San Bernardino on day before yesterday we found that large limbs were breaking from orange trees from the weight of fruit.

At Dr. Barton's they had just gathered a crop of Smyrna figs; they had four or five varieties of figs.

On day before yesterday we saw at Mr. Culbertson's lemon trees two years old from the graft more than two inches in diameter; Pears one year old, eight feet tall and one-fourth inches in diameter; plums, ten feet tall, and half a inches in diameter; oranges, two years old, one and a half inches in diameter.

Downey City Items.

(From the Courier, Nov. 20th.)

A sharp shock of earthquake was felt here on Monday afternoon last, about half past two, shaking things up considerably but doing no damage. The oscillation seemed to be from east to west.

Mr. E. L. Barnett brought into our office this week thirteen pounds of sweet potatoes, the product of one vine from one hill. They were raised by Mr. Barnett on his place near Los Nietos College.

There were fears that the tobacco here had been cut and not yet gathered but the fears were proved groundless.

The tobacco will be rendered a little more brittle, but no damage will be sustained.

The exports from our depot during the present month have been as follows:

Over 2,317 sacks, weighing 29,165 pounds; meal 180 sacks, weighing 7,600 pounds; castor beans 37 sacks, weighing 2,297 pounds; spuds 36 sacks weighing 3,693 pounds; onions, 55 sacks weighing 1,040 pounds; 10 packages merchandise, weighing 485 pounds. Total, 302,533 pounds.

Mr. Samuel Adams, who resides in a short distance of this town, has raised this season and shipped 25 tons of onions, all the product of a single acre of ground. He realized $1.26 per hundred pounds, or $625 for that acre of onions. What better evidence could there be of the bountiful productiveness of our soil, and of the profits to be derived from a judicious system of diversified farming? Is it not time that the farmers should learn wisdom by their own and the experience of others.

The Centre of the Earthquake.

The center of the earthquake disturbance, last Monday, appears to have been in Arizona; and the waves were from East to West, diminishing in force as they came along. While the oscillations here were not at all severe, they were quite otherwise in the neighboring Territory, along the stage route. At Gardener's Wells, 159 miles from San Diego, part of the station building was thrown down. At New River, 138 miles from San Diego, a part of the station building was thrown down. At Indian Wells, 122 miles from San Diego, the adobe stable and the adobe corral were both thrown down. The first shock was at 2:30 P. M. on Monday, and this was the heaviest. But there were other shocks nearly every hour until nine o'clock the next morning when the letter was written from which we gather the above particulars.—San Diego Union 20th.

FOREIGN.

WRECKS on the European Coast.

LONDON, November 20th.—The first report of loss of life and foundering of vessels around the coast are happily unfounded. The Shipping Gazette says the report of Lloyd's agent at Dover concerning terrible loss of life and eleven shipwrecks is contradicted.

The coast between Yarmouth and Lowestoft is strewn with wrecks. It says the vessels are ashore on Goodwin Sands.

The Spanish officials in Madrid express the belief that peace between Spain and the United States will continue uninterrupted.

Fatal Horse Disease.

The Bakersfield Californian of the 18th inst. has the following:

At the ranch of Mr. Souther, a serious disease among the horses has made its appearance, which excites considerable alarm. These show symptoms of disease, as if they suddenly come to a stop and die in a few moments. Mr. Souther lost four of his best animals in two days. An examination indicated congestion of the lungs. Mr. Carrill, a neighbor of Mr. Souther, informs us that two of his horses have been taken sick, and he thinks with the same trouble.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

Word has been received at San Francisco of the washing ashore at Gold Bluff of portions of the brig Willimantic, which probably foundered at sea during the recent heavy gales. She sailed from Humboldt October 29, with a cargo of lumber for San Francisco. Captain Olsen and all hands have undoubtedly perished.

The carnival ball in San Francisco Friday night is pronounced a failure as to characters but a success as to the crowd.

A Truckee dispatch of the 19th says: No. 1 passenger train of last night and night before were detained until 7:30 this morning on account of the slide near Camp 20. No. 2 Western bound passenger train, due here this morning at 2:40, has not yet arrived. It is expected here at 12 M. The track is now clear and no further delay is anticipated. Trains will be running on schedule time soon. The weather is warm and pleasant.

Mr. Cosgrove, a Call reporter, was stopped on his way home yesterday morning and robbed. Amount not
